

HOME HAPPENINGS

—Good time now to fill coal sheds.

—Scattering scandal is indefensible.

—Canfield should have a fair several times each year.

—The front of Aaron Wiesner's clothing store has been painted.

—A slate roof has been placed on the residence of D. A. Christman.

—Strive to make Canfield the best small town in this quarter of Ohio.

—All the home and county news all the time is the motto of the Dispatch.

—This is an opportune time to fill coal sheds for the cold days certain to come.

—George Monasmith has had improvements made on his North Broad street residence.

—Hugh Stuart is having repairs made on the building occupied by F. A. Morris' drug store.

—The Canfield cornet band is arranging for mardis gras doings in the park Halloween. Great doings promised.

—Connections have been made the past week for several natural gas consumers along the west side of Broad street.

—A baby daughter came last Friday to brighten the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Stratford, who reside west of the village.

—There are some mighty odorous places about town which should be given immediate attention by the health officer.

—The Dispatch is a day late this week. The fair is the only occasion in the year that interferes with its clockwork regularity in reaching readers.

—Youngstown sure sent big delegations to the county fair.

—The fair is the only occasion in the year that interferes with its clockwork regularity in reaching readers.

—Many of the exhibitors, grocers and race horses at the fair here this week went to Ravenna where the Portage county fair will be held next week.

—Too much fair this week to make a real long local newspaper. It is only once a year that the Dispatch crowd has an opportunity to attend a fair.

—The 8th annual reunion of the Burky family will be held on the Canfield fair grounds Saturday, Sept. 21. All relatives and friends cordially invited.

—The Altimo Gas Co. has ordered a large quantity of pipe and hopes to have natural gas mains laid in all parts of the village before winter sets in.

—A runaway horse caused a little commotion on West Main street Sunday night. The owner in an automobile headed off the animal some distance west of town.

—Next Monday morning the Canfield public schools reopen and the Normal college will begin work Tuesday morning. Indications point to a large attendance at both schools.

—The Warren Chronicle remarks that the Canfield fair is on this week. It is as staple as the Trumbull county fair institution, and draws from hereabouts like unto a mustard plaster.

—The wide-awake tradesmen of this locality let the people of the community know through the medium of the Dispatch what they have to sell and the advantages offered by trading with them.

—Work progressed rapidly on the east end of the road this week and most of the slag foundation has been laid. Several hundred feet of the east end of the road has been completed.

—Next Thursday the township trustees will let the contract to improve the roads on Lisbon and Newton streets. It is hoped to have the work completed before cold weather comes.

—The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will hold a praise service and missionary tea at the home of Mrs. Robert Pugh Wednesday, Sept. 18, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Samuel Shiner of Cleveland will give an address.

—Last year on account of paving the west side of Broad street it could not be used during the fair. This year on account of being macadamized East Main street, was closed to traffic. Next year it is hoped that all roads leading into Canfield will be open for those who desire to attend the fair.

—The fall meeting of the Presbytery of Mahoning was held at Clarkston, Columbiana county, Monday evening and Tuesday. Thirty-six ministers and a representative from each of the thirty-nine churches constituted the body. Rev. Robert E. Pugh and Dr. D. Campbell represented the local Presbyterian church.

—Next Monday, when the public schools open, nine "kid wagons" will be seen on the streets. They will be used in conveying pupils in the several districts to and from the village centralized school. Only two district schools will be in session in this township the coming year, the one in the east town line and the one on Turner street.

—Lyman Schnurrenberger of Green township has attended every one of the sixty-six annual fairs held in Canfield by the Mahoning County Agricultural Society. He vividly recalls the long strings of ox teams, public speaking and the many features that characterized the fairs of early days. Thursday while at the fair he remarked that it was hardly possible to realize the many changes and improvements that have come since the first fair was held on the public square in Canfield 66 years ago.

Letter to Andrews & George Canfield, Ohio.

Dear Sirs: We reiterate: Every job painted Devoe takes less gallons than of any other paint. Here's the proof: Paint half your job Devoe: paint the other half whatever you like. If Devoe doesn't take less gallons and cost less money, no pay.

Yours truly,

PIONEER CITIZEN IS DEAD

Isaiah S. Reed Was Called to His Reward Early Last Friday Morning.

Isaiah S. Reed died last Friday morning at the home of his son, Walter S. Reed, on Long Island. Last fall Mr. and Mrs. Reed went to visit their son for a few weeks. Mr. Reed had been in rather poor health for some time and as his condition did not improve he was prevailed upon to remain during the winter. He had hoped that with the coming of spring he would be well enough to return home for the summer, but this was not to be. Disease incident to advanced years had fastened itself upon him, and despite all that the best medical skill and tender care could do for him he slept peacefully away early Friday morning.

Isaiah S. Reed was a son of Stephen Reed, a pioneer resident of Mahoning county, and was born in Ellsworth township November 20, 1825, consequently was in the 87th year of his age. He was a farmer by occupation and resided on the old home farm until eighteen years ago when he retired and moved to Canfield.

He possessed a strong mind, was a great reader and during his long and useful life gathered a fund of information that made him a most interesting conversationalist. Always contented and cheerful, he made friends of all with whom he came in contact. It can be truthfully said of him that he was a man without an enemy. Mr. Reed was twice married, his first wife being Miss Haden Dunlap who died about 45 years ago. They were born the following surviving children: Mrs. J. R. Knox of Warren, John and Frank Reed of Youngstown. About 38 years ago Mr. Reed was married to Miss Jennie Hanson of Detroit, who, with one son, Walter S. Reed, of New York survives him.

The remains were brought to Canfield Sunday morning and funeral services, held in the mausoleum Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, were conducted by Rev. Forrest H. Hill, pastor of the M. E. Church, and were largely attended. A quartet composed of Misses Vena Hendricks and Bernice Parrish and Messrs. R. H. Higgins and William Parrish sang favorite hymns of the deceased. The honorary pallbearers were Ward Dean of Rosemont, J. A. Ebert of North Jackson, S. S. Gault of Ellsworth, C. J. Misner, E. Y. Kirk and P. A. Beardsley of Canfield. The remains were laid away in the mausoleum.

NORTH JACKSON

Sept. 12.—C. A. Clemmens and wife entertained the following people at their home Saturday evening: Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Goldner and daughters Rutheda and Martha, Miss Alma Osborne, W. T. Osborne, wife and son Kenneth and Julia Osborne.

Quite a number from here attended the Warren fair last week. Jacob Liby has bought property on Swallow street, Warren, O., and expects to move Oct. 1.

Edna Lange of Newton Falls spent Sunday here with her parents. Mrs. Mabel Groose and daughter Marie spent last Thursday in Youngstown.

Fernly and Gladys Murdock returned to Cleveland after spending their vacation here with their mother, Mrs. Will Baily.

Augusta, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ebert is quite ill. Mrs. Ira Bingham recently entertained friends from Pennsylvania.

Addison Ebert and wife attended the funeral of Isaiah Reed in Canfield, Sunday.

Ford Lingo is entertaining a friend from Niles. Wade Ulrich and family spent Sunday with Ed. Bailey and wife.

Liby and family were Warren callers Sunday evening. Mrs. Jasper Harris, who has been ill with heart trouble, is much better. C. A. and E. E. Clemmens went to Warren Sunday afternoon to see their brother Shannon who is threatened with typhoid fever.

Mrs. Day Duer is not much improved.

Next Sunday attorneys for the Anti-Saloon League will speak in the North Jackson M. E. Church, morning and evening.

CHURCH CHIMES

The Presbyterian church carpet has been finished—the services next Sunday will be upstairs, conducted by the pastor. Everybody welcome.

Methodist Church—Forrest H. Hill, pastor. 9 a. m. Sunday school, Wm. Parrish, superintendent. 10 a. m. public worship and sermon. Subject, "Try Again." 8 p. m. Epworth League. Topic, "The Attainment of Scripture." Leader, Mrs. John Rice. 7 p. m. song service and sermon. Subject, "The True Sayings of God." This is the last Sunday in the Conference year. At the morning service the pastor will give a report to the congregation of the year's work. All financial obligations to the church should be met by Sunday. You will find a welcome at all of these services.

—W. H. Reed, a native of Canfield, who for several years past spent his summers with relatives in this place, died last Sunday at the home of his son in Kansas City, Mo., and was buried Tuesday at his old home in Jackson, Ill. Deceased was about eighty-five years of age.

It is better to begin at the bottom of the ladder than to tumble from the top.

COUNTY FAIR GREAT SUCCESS

Thousands Were Attracted to Canfield This Week by the Big Annual Show.

The sixty-sixth annual fair of the Mahoning County Agricultural Society, held in Canfield Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, passed into history as one of the most successful in the history of the association.

The first day was devoted to receiving and placing exhibits and by evening there was a really fine showing in every department. Despite the long rainy season the grounds, except in spots, were in good condition. The weather man was very considerate, only a little rain falling during the forenoon of the second day.

Wednesday morning the crowd began coming early and kept coming until late in the afternoon. There must have been more than a thousand automobiles in the space reserved for them. Certain it is that never half so many machines were ever before in Canfield at one time. And it seemed that every kind of wheel vehicle was used to carry people to the fair. Special Erie trains brought hundreds. Thursday's crowd was not so large but it numbered thousands. And everyone enjoyed the great fair which the managers had worked hard to make a success.

The crowd was the most orderly one ever on the grounds. Chief of Police McDowell of Youngstown was here with several officers and his detectives and not a single case of pocketpicking was reported.

The Canfield cornet band furnished music Wednesday and the Greenford band played Thursday.

Kirk's Cleveland Vocal Orchestra delighted thousands in the grand stand both days with varied programs. It was a feature that will be retained for future fairs.

The attractions on the grounds were many and varied and everybody enjoyed them. The mercantile display in the main and other halls was large and fine; and this was true of the floral and other exhibits. There was much farm machinery shown and the automobile show was excellent.

Thousands visited the splendid free exhibit from the Ohio Experiment farm at Wooster and heard short talks given by the gentlemen in charge. So pleasing was this feature that efforts will be made to have it again next year.

There was a good showing of horses, cattle, sheep, goats and poultry. The stock parade at noon Thursday was led by the Greenford band. Officers of the association in the parade occupied a big auto truck.

As usual, great interest centered in the races Wednesday and Thursday afternoons. The field of horses was not so large as some years on account of four or five other fairs in the locality being held this week and having the same classes. However, every class more than filled and the horses were exceptionally good ones. On account of the gentleman who had been engaged to act as starting judge not being able to get here, C. T. Agnew officiated. He pleased the crowd with the prompt manner in which he got the horses away and the horsemen complimented him on his fairness. There were two accidents Thursday afternoon, caused by the breaking of sulks. Geo. Schoenberger of Warren was thrown from his sulky but clung to the reins while being dragged along the track and his horse did not get away from him. While painfully bruised he plucky got into the going the next heat and won second money in the 24 trot. Race summary:

CIGAR BOXES OF CARDBOARD

Cheap Material Now Used in Exact Imitation of the More Costly Spanish Cedar.

There are now made cigar boxes of cardboard in such exact imitation of Spanish cedar boxes that they might anywhere be taken for the real things.

Three layers of a cardboard specially made for the purpose are pressed together to produce a board of precisely the right thickness, and then upon the outer side there is printed, from an engraved plate and with correct coloring, a photographic reproduction of a sheet of actual Spanish cedar; this reproduction showing the grain of the wood with all its variations and even the tiny little knots, if there are any.

The bottom and the sides for a cardboard box are cut out all in one piece, so that they require neither nailing nor sewing. The end pieces, cut out separately, are wire stitched in by machine, and then the cover is put on being blinged with the usual piece of muslin.

These cardboard boxes made in imitation of cedar are finished in regulation manner, paper lined and with the usual paper flap to cover the cigars. The outer edges are paper bound in the usual fashion. In its finished state the box contains one nail, the nail always found at the center of the side edge of the cigar box to hold the cover down. These boxes sell for about 80 per cent. less than boxes made of wood.
